1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

2. Claims 7 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Kobayashi. Kobayashi discloses a trim operating lever device for a personal watercraft with a jet propeller 23, a nozzle 27, a steering handle 21, and a trim operating lever 45 attached to the steering handle for controlling the handle.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kobayashi in view of Sjojo. Kobayashi does not disclose a lever lock. Sjojo discloses a lever lock (note column 1, last paragraph, for example). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the device of Kobayashi with a lever lock as taught by Sjojo for improved trim setting.

5. Claims 2-6 and 9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Castellucci shows a trim control. Cotton shows a trim actuator. Kline et al show a lever lock 50.
